What is Permanent Cosmetics?

Permanent Cosmetics is a 4,000 year old process that has been brought into vogue the past 15 years. Permanent Cosmetics is the permanent application of pigment into the skin for eyebrows, eyeliner, lip liner, complete lip shape reconstruction, birthmarks, nipple areola (after reconstructive surgery of mastectomy patients), scar camouflage for hypo and hyperpigmented scars (this could include burn victims as well as vitiligo patients), spider vein camouflage, and hair simulation in scalp for alopecia areola patients otherwise known as tattooing. In ancient times this process could only be afforded by the elite and very wealthy. Today, technology and new innovative processes have made the price affordable for anybody to have this process done.

How does Permanent Cosmetics Work?

We use manual and/or machine methods to apply pigment into the skin according to the desired shape or design that is pleasing to the client having the procedure done.

Why do clients prefer our technique over all other permanent makeup procedures?

It is the most gentle and comfortable procedure and it looks the most natural. The final look is natural, soft, powdery and subtle.

Is it safe?

Yes! With each procedure, fresh pigments are used which contain safe inorganic ingredients. In addition, only disposable probes, brushes, and spatulas are used. All non-disposable equipment is thoroughly sterilized via OSHA sterilization procedures such as a dry heat sterilizer or autoclave. A patch test is suggested to qualify any color changes that may take place with the undertones of an individual's skin. The fresh pigment is deposited by the needles/blades permanently into the skin. Traditional methods of tattooing use a reciprocating needle which pushes the color into the skin. The pigments have earned their excellent reputation because they look so natural. They are thick, reach and creamy which allows to the permanent cosmetic technician complete control in color selection. Now you are on the way to becoming a natural beauty. The look you've always dreamt of can be yours forever. Your permanent makeup artist will:
